

HOW TO

Budget for Study Abroad

Studying abroad includes an academic component as well. Visit studentaccounts.ucf.edu for current tuition rates.

TUITION

Program cost varies based on the type of program you select. Visit studyabroad.ucf.edu for more information.

COST

Airfare should be one of the first costs budgeted for. Remember that buying sooner means saving.

AIRFARE

Consider length of stay, conversion rates, and cost of living. Visit aoprals.state.gov for foreign meal rates in USD.

FOOD

YOUR FUNDS FOR TRAVEL

The more you plan and save the easier it will be to fund your study abroad experience.

HOUSING

Depending on the program you select, housing may or may not be included in the program cost.

CREDIT

Contact your bank about placing a travel notice on any debit or credit cards you plan on using abroad.

PASSPORT

Visit travel.state.gov for up to date fee rates for passport application and renewals.

MISC.

See the reverse side of this sheet for a list of other possible expenses.

HOW
TO

Budget for Study Abroad

PROGRAM COSTS	AMOUNT
UCF Tuition
Program Cost
Airfare
Food (meals that are not included in the program)
Housing
Credit/Conversion Rates
Passport
Visa (if applicable)
Local Transportation
Personal Items (phone, toiletries, entertainment, gifts, etc.)
Additional Travel Accident and Sickness Policy
Healthcare Expenses (physical exam, vaccinations, medications)
Emergency Funds
Optional Personal Travel
MISCELLANIOUS:
TOTAL ESTIMATED COSTS
SOURCES OF FUNDING
Savings
Scholarships/Grants
Loans
Parental/Guardian Support
Credit Card
Other
TOTAL FUNDING	